Price Chopper Supermarkets needed to install surface drainage in the truck bay areas at its major distribution facility in Rotterdam, New York.

The retrofit drain operation was planned in order to ensure that water buildup would be effectively captured and removed away from the facility, and that the final drain system would be durable and long lasting under the continual daily heavy traffic of tractor trailers crossing the drain channels.

ACO HighwayDrain HD200 can withstand the frequent braking and turning of heavy duty traffic and can accommodate the massive weights carried by tractor trailers and other heavy vehicles at the Price Chopper distribution centers.
